

Daily Homily
Fifth Week of Easter: Wednesday
10 May 2023
USCCB Daily Readings

“Without me you can do nothing.”

Words of Jesus to the disciples... these are the words that we hear at the beginning of this day, in the middle of this Easter time, at this point within our lives. These are the words that we should hang on and hold onto because they are so true.

We need Jesus.

So think about what you need to accomplish today. I have my own list in my head as we speak – I can’t do it... we can’t do it without Jesus.

But also think what Jesus needs you to accomplish today. No doubt He has a whole list in His head right now as we speak – I can’t do it... we can’t do it without Him.

Even things like breathing... being kind... being patient... avoiding sin... we need Him. Without Him we can do nothing.